A wide-angle shot of a modern cinema interior. The room is dimly lit, with the primary light source being the large screen at the front. The screen displays the word "Demo" in a large, white, sans-serif font. The walls are a deep blue, and the side walls feature vertical panels with a wavy, textured pattern illuminated from within. Rows of black, padded seats are arranged in the foreground, facing the screen. The ceiling is dark with recessed lighting.
